

Rising up from Akron, Ohio, the group of musicians knows as Aviatik ("ay-vee-attik") stands not just as a rock band, but as a protest for hope in a broken world. Crafting urgent anthems to a better tomorrow, Aviatik's music is a cry echoing in darkness: "We're not giving up!"

Aviatik's explosive live show has already led them to share the stage with acts like Powerman 5000, Adema, Stroke 9, The Suicide Machines, Wheatus, & Spoken.

Similar Artists: Taking Back Sunday, Thrice, My Chemical Romance, Fall Out Boy, The Used, The Receiving End of Sirens, Anberlin

Aviatik is preparing to release the double-disc album "Reconstruction / Deconstruction" in March of 2010. This album tells the tragic story of an everyhuman who takes a revolutionary stand against the dehumanization of his peers, a stand which eventually costs him his life. Aviatik is planning an 8-state tour in support of the album

"They sound amazing!"

-DJ Eric Simm, WJCU

"With harmonies and musical influences ranging from military rhythms to Spanish guitar, the arrangements are layered and deep!"

-Brittany Moffat, Cleveland Magazine

"It's so rare nowadays to find a band with two people that can actually sing! I love the way they harmonize back and forth... it's great to hear a new band with this kind of talent."

-DJ Greg Coffee, WSTB

"This group is talented all the way around and performs with a lot of intensity!"

-Allison Bugg, The Daily Kent Stater
